

Monets helping people

I am very grateful to Monet's for providing me with a job and stability while I studied at university. I had been stacking shelves at the University Library for some months prior to starting at Monet's as an admin assistant, but found the shelving somewhat stressful, more so than you would naturally think.

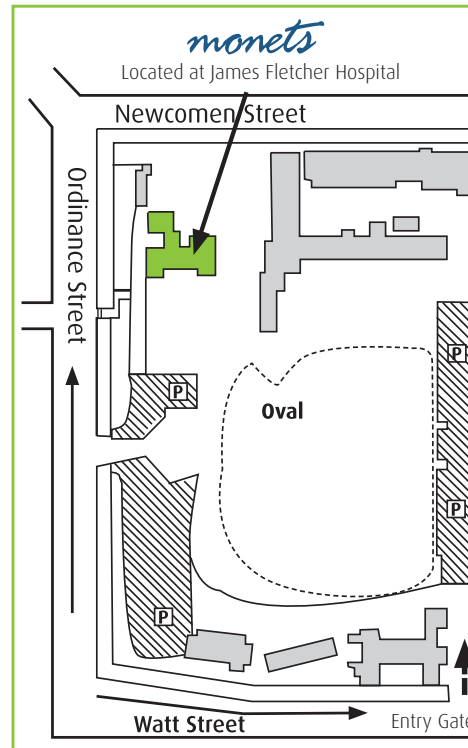

I had worked in clerical jobs before, small part-time, low stress jobs, but real experience nonetheless. This included newsletter editing for a small disability employment agency and working in a legal firm as an admin assistant for two years.

This was in spite of being a trained library technician, a job I am no longer capable of doing due to stress limitations. I also have two BAs behind me, one twenty five years old, the other current.

I have the diagnosis of schizophrenia, but no longer feel overshadowed by that. I was diagnosed late in my life at 35 years old and sometimes feel that an earlier diagnosis would have been a good thing.
